The Underclassmen have a job to do at CHS. We are here to learn algebra and English and how to have fun while doing it.

24

The Faculty of CHS is more than just a group of teachers. They aren't just interested in books, they're interested in us.

30

The Student Life at CHS is exciting. Sometimes, the educational process needs a little spice. That's what dates, best friends and weekends are for.

36

The Sports at CHS involve hard work, practice and sweat. Maybe this is why our Falcon teams are so supreme.

78

The Seniors are definitely on top of things. After spending four years at CHS, we get to know the school and each other very well.

88

The Activities and Organizations keep us motivated. Remember the Explorer's canoe trip? The Science Olympiad? Those were some great times!

118

The Advertisements are what make this book possible. Our local businesses and senior parents contribute to over half of our costs.

1. Falcon spirit shines at the Tomahawk pep assembly. 2. Mrs. Barrus helps Candi May with her homework. 3. Carrie Gresso and Dee White share their friendship. 4. James Giltner chooses playing poker instead of eating school lunch. 5. Mr. Deller and Dr. Songer prepare to eat pie. 6. Terry D'Haese concentrates. 7. "If you throw that pie in my face . . .," says Karen Walker.

Check Us Out!

In September Of 1986 . . .

As students of CHS, we cry, "Check us out!" We have a need of recognition from our peers and also from adults. We want people to notice us.

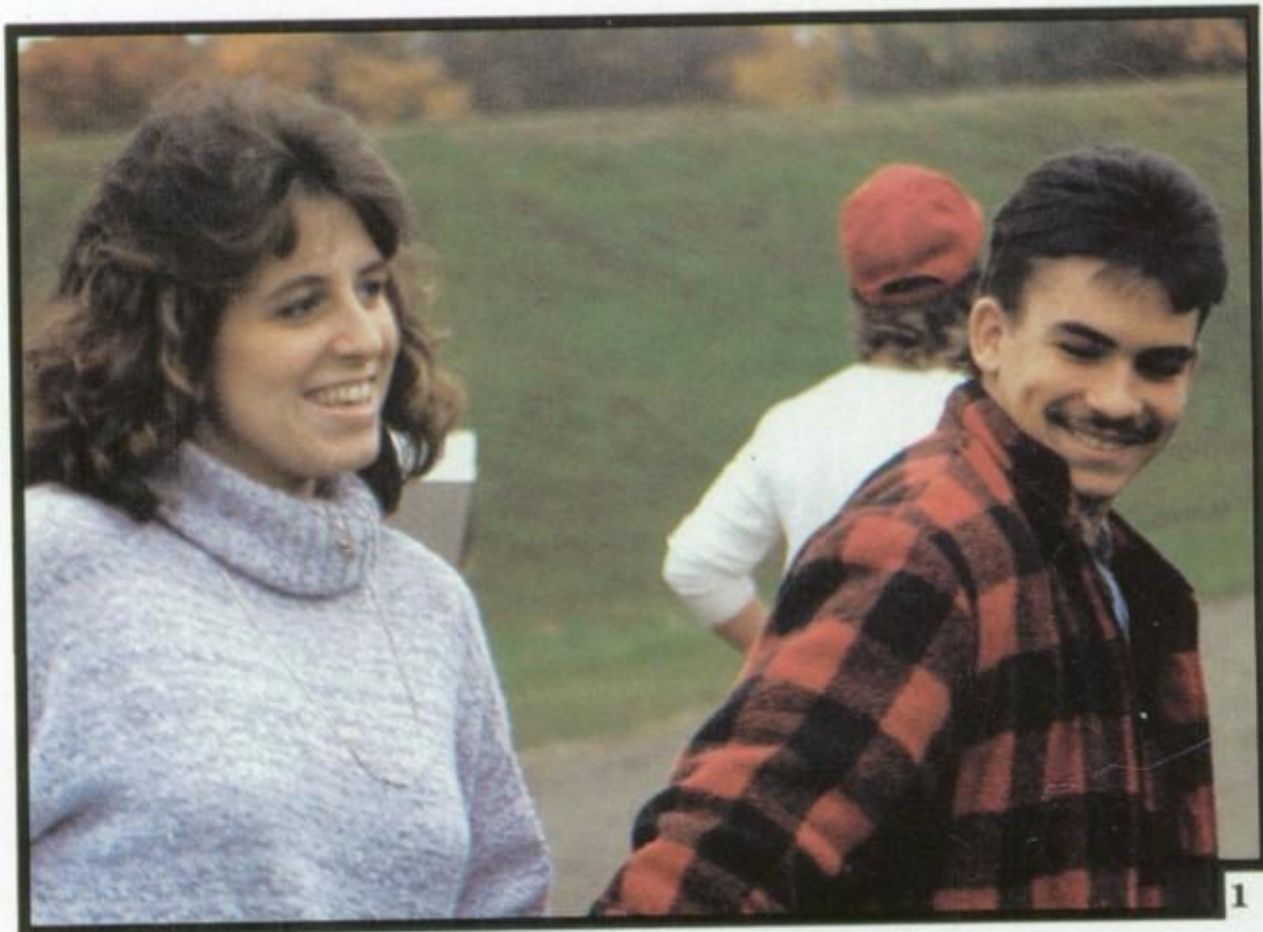

Why else would we work all summer in the cornfields to make some cash? Why else would we spend that money on the perfect haircut, a new wardrobe, and if we were lucky, that awesome set of wheels?

In September of 1986 we had high hopes of being checked out by everyone. Most likely, we were.

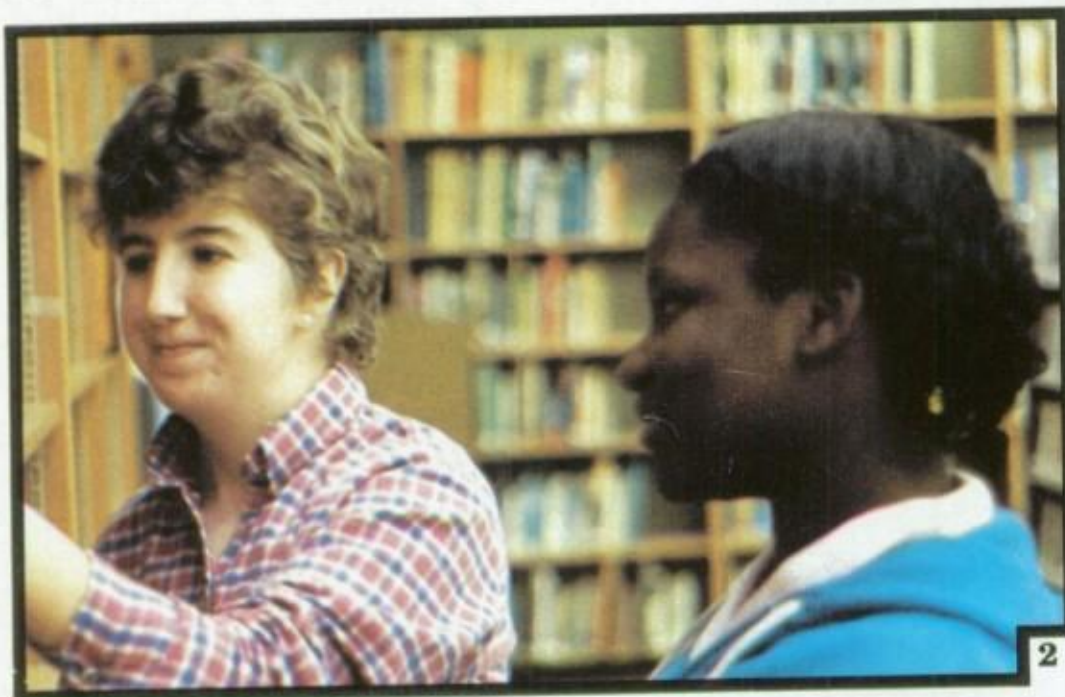

Check Us Out!

1. Crystal Larrance and Mike Wexler enjoy their time together. 2. Heidi Bucsh helps Bridgette Peterson find The Grapes of Wrath. 3. Rosemary Traphagan and Joyce Karcher gossip during lunch. 4. Todd Outman studies for his College English exam. 5. Mrs. Lowler sings her heart out. 6. Robin Eger asks Lisa Fry, "What cheer is this?"

Dedication '87

Every year the CHS Ledger is dedicated to a person, or group of people. This year, the Publications staff chose to dedicate the yearbook to Mrs. Sue Lowler. Although she has only been the yearbook adviser for three years, her efforts have proven to be successful. With her help, the 1987 Yearbook Staff was awarded "Outstanding Yearbook Staff" at TPC Yearbook Camp this summer.

Editor, Laura Seager commented, "Mrs. Lowler is a great adviser. By dedicating the yearbook to her, we can show how much we appreciate the time, effort and encouragement she has given the staff."

Best Years of Our Lives

As underclassmen of CHS, we have a job to do. We have to make our years at CHS "the best years of our lives". This shouldn't be too difficult, since having fun is what we do best.

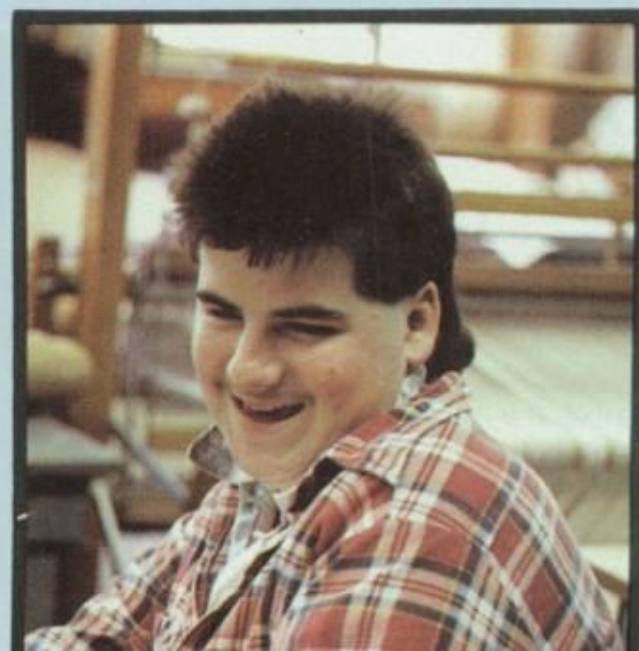

Remember juniors Mike Fager and Kevin Lucas? They were the two guys who dressed like women during Spirit Week. They looked hilarious in heels, pantyhose and make-up.

Remember sophomores Judy Becker and Jessi Peterson? They were the two "rowdies" that got involved in a paper mache fight while the other sophomores were building their class float for Homecoming. Jessi and Judy had paper mache all over their faces as their friends teased them.

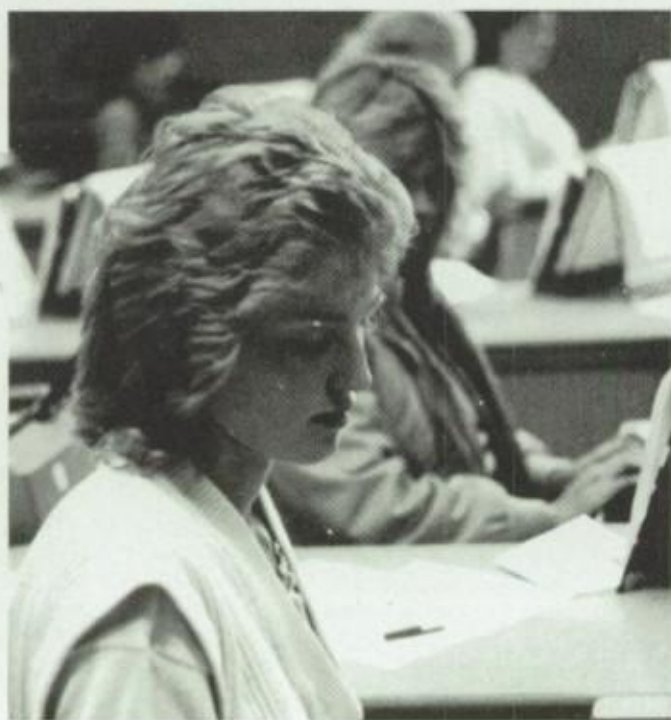

Remember freshman Josh Topolski? He was the idol of all the freshmen guys. His girlfriend was senior Julie Simmons. As they walked down the hall holding hands, the other freshmen boys were green with envy.

These are just a few examples of the fun underclassmen we have at CHS. The rest of us must also be sure to make our high school days "the best". Junior Rachel Neff comments, "My first three years at CHS have been really fun. I know my senior year will be even better!"

Being a teenager can be very exciting and exhilarating. We want to experience life and challenge the world. After all, we are the future leaders of tomorrow.

Students Choose Favorites

Music, celebrities, television shows, movies, teachers — which did Falcon students prefer the most out of each category? Approximately four hundred students were polled concerning their favorites. They are listed in order of Junior, Sophomore, and Freshman favorites.

Bon Jovi was the overall favorite rock group, as was their song “You Give Love a Bad Name”.

The most favored teachers are Mr. Scott, Ms. Lehman, and Mrs. Grunert.

They Aren't Just Teachers

When students at CHS think of a teacher, we picture the old stereotype. She's a lady with wire-rimmed glasses on her nose and a gray bun in her hair. She's at school from eight in the morning 'til five at night, and on weekends she grades papers. However, the teachers at CHS are the exception to that rule.

Our teachers lead extremely exciting lives. Did you know that Mrs. Lehman is a weight lifter and that Mrs. Grunert leads an aerobics class?

Did you know that Mr. Hunter races snow-mobiles? We tend to think that our teachers lead boring lives, but most of them are very active. "I really enjoy my weekends because I have time to play racquetball, read and relax," states Mrs. Connelly.

Not only do our teachers enjoy their free time, they also like being with us. Although the staff carries out the educational process, they often end up becoming friends with us. "I don't think it hurts to be friends with students, as long as the teachers and the students understand their roles," comments Mr. Hassenger.

Mrs. Deller adds, "Because I care about my students, I try to get them to realize that they must have future goals. I want them to think about five years from now rather than just today."

The faculty's main objective is to help students achieve their goals. This takes a lot of time and effort. So take time to check out your teachers. Remember, they're not just teachers, they're our friends.

The Spice of Life

Parties, games, friends and fun are what makes the world go 'round. The memories we create in high school will last forever. Life is more than the 8:40 to 3:10 Monday through Friday routine.

It was more than listening to Mrs. Boeshenstein's lectures or taking one of Mr. Bradford's tests. Life was exciting. Life was invigorating. There was so much to do and so little time to do it.

Do you remember breaking curfew on your first date? Were you the person who planned "the walk-out"? Did you go to the football games and scream for your team until your voice was gone?

Were you the preppy who wore your collar turned up, or were you the rebel who had spiked hair? Did you come to school with a positive attitude, or were you one of the seniors who "didn't care"? Were you one of the people who wrote bad things on the bathroom wall, or were you one of the people who read it and laughed?

Our lives were filled with exciting adventures and good times. High school was a time for part-time jobs, constant schoolwork and full-time fun. There were many pressures and busy schedules. However, we managed to survive, loving every minute of it.

As you read this section of the yearbook, notice the expressions on our faces. We were having fun. We were enjoying life. Most of all, we were creating moments we'll remember for the rest of our lives.

Falcon Fashion

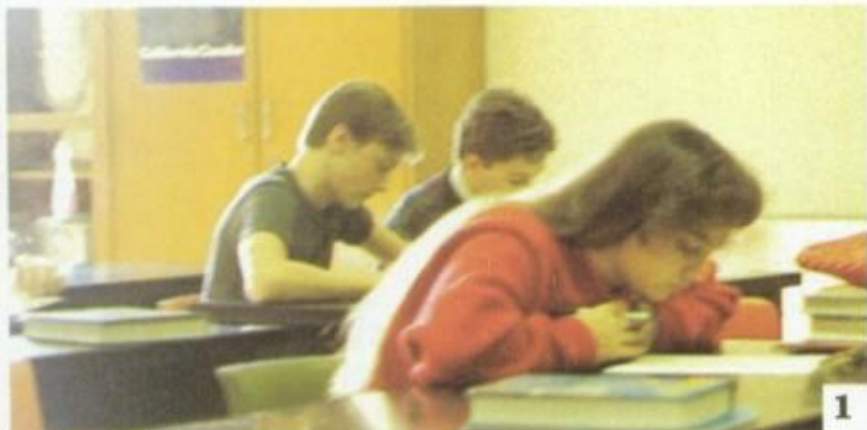

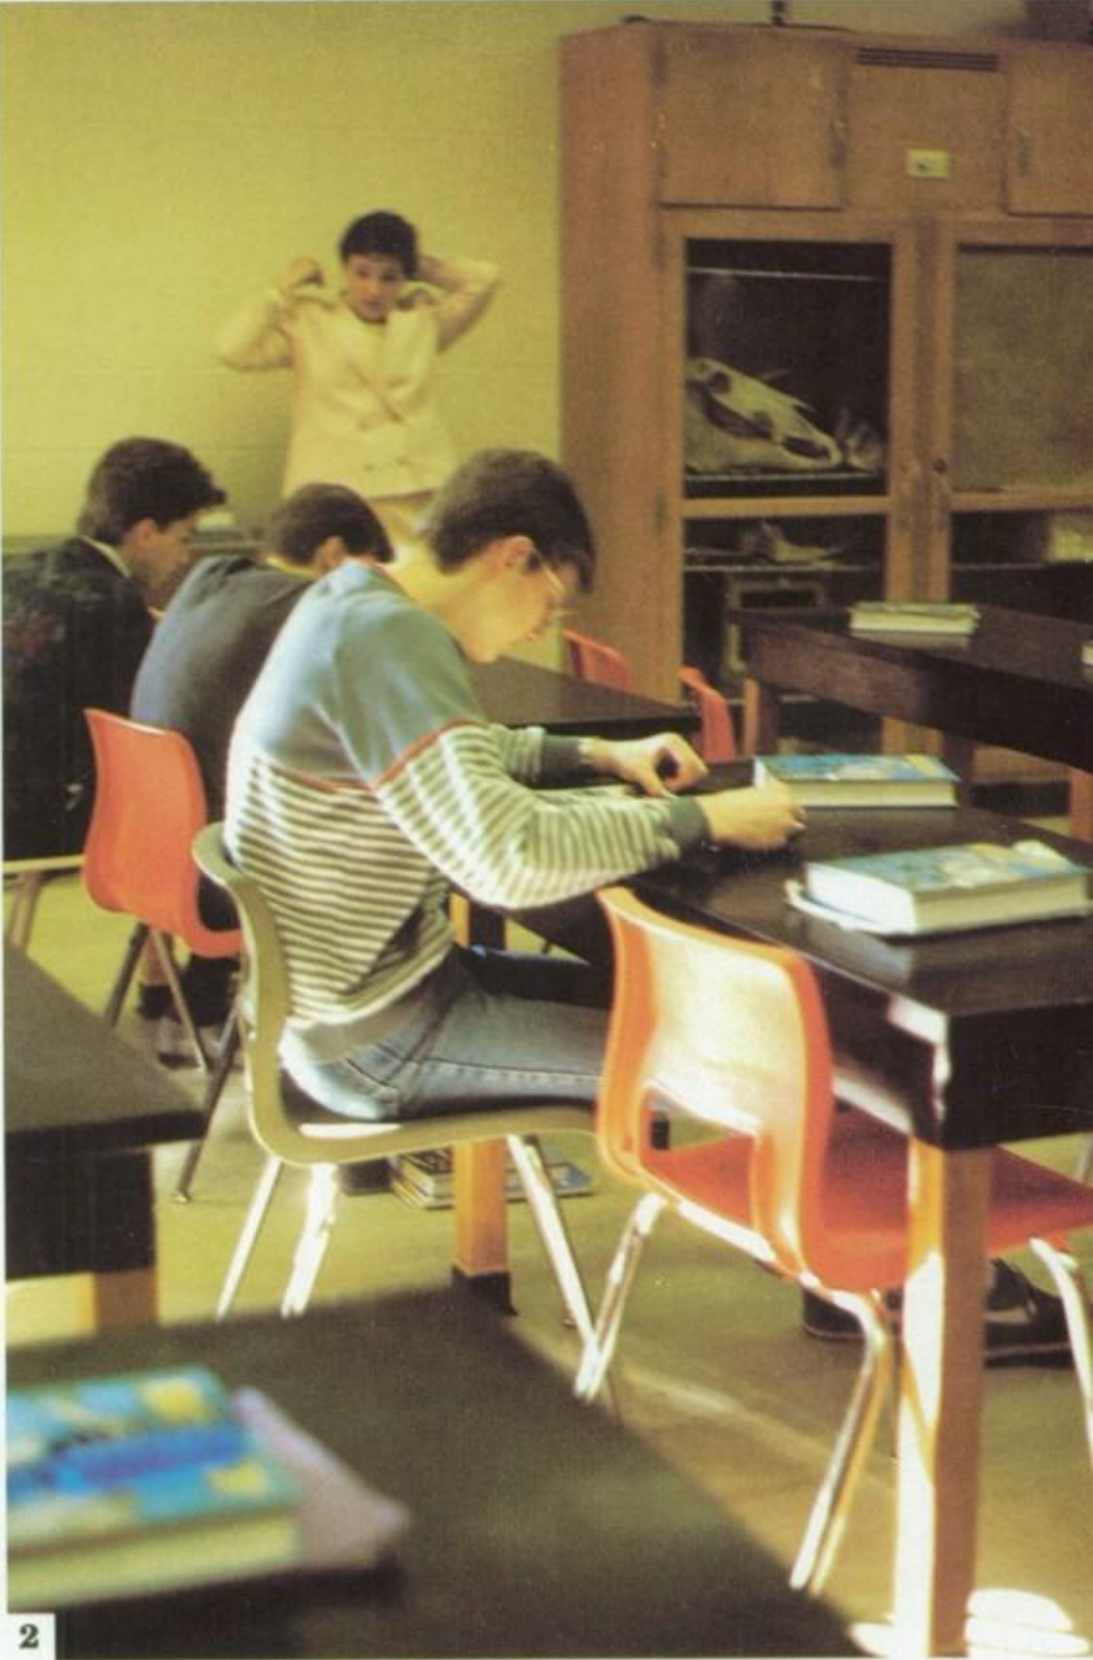

Fashion at CHS was outrageous during the 1986-87 school year. From Coca-Cola shirts and sweats to cozy Forenza sweaters and Out-back Red shirts, eye-catching clothes appeared everywhere.

For guys, the places to spend saved-up lunch money were The Chess King, The Bottom Half and J.R. Riggins. For girls, the places were Hudson's, The Limited, and Brooks. From expensive clothes to wearing your dad's boxer shorts and hanging your suspenders at your sides, almost anything was in fashion and Falcon styles were no exception!

Academics is the major reason we attend school. Fortunately, most CHS teachers make learning fun. From English, math and science to art, band, shop and home ec classes, CHS offers us many academic opportunities.

Do you remember walking into your first class as a freshman? Each of the teachers handed you a sheet of rules. It took only three weeks to decide if they followed those. Remember dissecting worms, frogs and pigs in biology? Remember gym with Mr. Horn? It's a good thing we were taught personal hygiene in health to combat the phys ed smell.

As we think back to the special moments in high school we'll probably think of times spent with best friends. Remember cruising together in Three Rivers? How about games and dances where we were always rowdy? Then there was always the special smile or knowing look from a friend to help make every day special.

Girls, do you remember the first time you received roses? Do you remember introducing your boyfriend to your dad? What about the time the car got stuck while you were parking? Remember arriving home late and being grounded for "the rest of your life"?

Guys, remember your first kiss he asked, "Would you like a Breath Saver?" What about the time you almost knocked your girlfriend out trying to put your arm around her? Remember taking her out to that special restaurant and not having enough money to pay the bill?

After understanding and learning more about that special person, chances are that everything will work out. Maybe your high school sweetheart will become something more. So remember, that first date at Pizza Hut may turn into a lasting relationship.

Afterschool Fun

Many high school students find school quite grueling. For relaxing, fulfilling hunger, or just "hanging out", many turn to a burger 'n shake at the Town Fryer. Some even feel a need to get away . . . like playing in the park. The student life of CHS is worth being checked out!

Teens With Jobs

"Money makes the world go 'round . . ." may be an old saying, but today's teens find that money also makes the social life go around. In the 80's teenagers have lots of things to purchase ranging from video games to the latest in designer clothes. With so much to choose from, teenagers are forced to find a way to make ends meet. How is it done?

Senior Rachel Ross, who works as a waitress, stated, "I decided to get a job because I didn't get an allowance from my father, and there was no way I could get the things I wanted without a job. The pay was all right, but the tips are what made me stay with it."

However, some get an allowance from their parents. Senior Jim Wise commented, "My parents give me about ten dollars a week. But that wasn't enough to do the things I wanted. The kinds of things I wanted to do, like go to concerts, costs a lot of money. So I got a job and that helped a lot." But not all teens hold a job for money reasons. Some get the job for experience in the future, while others get one to pass the time.

The jobs that today's young work force hold are mainly in fast food restaurants and clothing stores. Others work at their parents businesses or at home. In most situations the main goal is to earn money. With these jobs, teenagers are preparing to join the millions of people already in the ever-growing work force.

Sophomore Holly Vernon rings up another hard earned sale in a drugstore. 6. Senior Teresa Hochstetler seems to be thinking of the money she'll be making as she whips up a shake for a customer.

Practice, Hardwork and Sweat Build Winners

As we participate in sports, we learn about life. We learn how to be humble winners and how to accept defeat gracefully. More importantly, we learn to get along and to work with others.

After practicing long and hard, winning makes it all seem worthwhile. As teams, we make goals in the beginning of the season, and throughout the season we strive to achieve these goals.

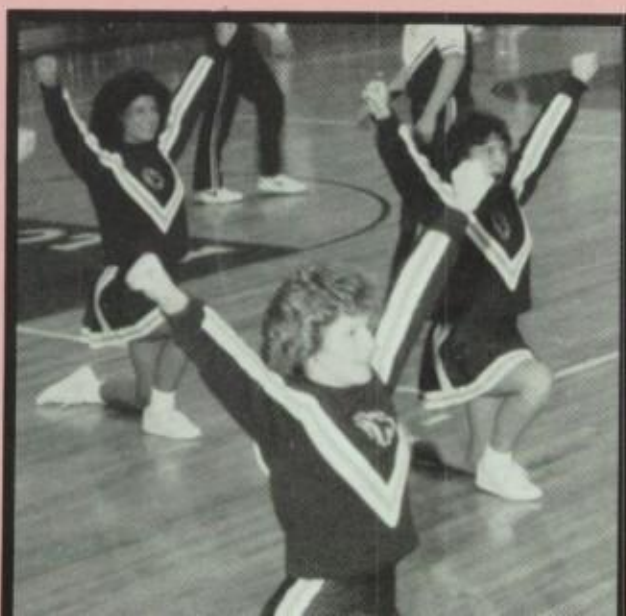

Dedication by the players and support from the fans leads us to victories. After the game is over and we have won, school spirit ignites.

Were you there when the Varsity football team defeated Kalamazoo Christian? Did you see the girls Varsity basketball team defeat Centreville? Were you at the district championship game when the boys Varsity basketball team defeated Kalamazoo Hackett?

However with victory comes defeat, and as a team we learn to deal with it. Through defeat, we grow closer and work harder for another victory. Our school spirit cannot be diminished.

Whether we win or lose, there are important lessons that we learn. We learn responsibility and leadership. We also learn that sometimes we must sacrifice personal gain to achieve a team goal. The friendships we form in the gym and on the field, as well as the sense of purpose and determination that accompanies a sport, will be remembered long after the games are over.

The Falcon Varsity football team had season results of 5-4 overall and 2-4 in league competition. Leading the squad in points was senior co-captain Adam Fletter. Fletter, who tallied 60 points, made the all-league offensive football squad. The defensive picks were senior linebacker Larry Bacheller and senior tackle Wade Blyly. Bacheller, also co-captain, was chosen as the most valuable player, while the coach's award and most improved awards went to Fletter and Todd Outman, respectively.

Freshman

The Freshmen football team was new to the Constantine athletic program this year. Through sweat and sore muscles, the team learned and experienced the aspects of high school football. As the season progressed, the athletes learned teamwork. Many of the team goals were met, and a successful season resulted. Hard work helped the squad prepare for next year's junior varsity team.

These were the first football cheerleaders in CHS history to enter a competition. The Varsity squad not only entered, but they also took first place over a squad that qualified for nationals. The team had an overall successful season with the help of the three four-year award winners, Brooke Balcom, Wendy Churchill and Laura Seager. At the close of the season, Seager received the most valuable award, Churchill, the most enthusiastic award, and Amii Prince, the most improved and most congenial awards. Rachel Dalrymple, the Falcon mascot, was the recipient of the coach's award.

JV

Many times the JV cheerleaders are not recognized because they are in the shadows of the varsity members. But not to worry, these spunky athletes can still keep their teams going. The girls' school spirit and determination clearly marks them as Falcon fans. Now it is time for them to be acknowledged. These proud girls have worked hard for their recognition.

When the season was finally over the JV girls basketball team produced an outstanding record of 12 wins and 8 losses. After league competition their record was 10-4. "When ya get 'em down, kick 'em!" This was the philosophy of the 1986 girls' Varsity basketball team and coach. Ending their season 15-6 and 10-4 in league competition, the team was successful in accomplishing some of their goals. The team was ranked ninth in the Class "C" polls and placed second in the league. For the Lady Falcons, these two accomplishments were some of the best ever done by the girls varsity program.

All-league honors were given to co-captain Stephanie Bishop, Kim Moe, and honorable mention was received by co-captain Teresa Hochstetler.

a golf coach here at CHS. I am proud of these young golfers. They have a lot of potential for the future."

Kody Kimes was named Most Valuable Player for 1986. He also received an All League medal. Other awards were given to David Grile and Chris LeBarre.

Besides being the SJV league co-champs, this year's Varsity basketball team won the District title, making Constantine district champions for the second consecutive year. Other highlights of the season included defeating both Schoolcraft and Centreville. The team ended the season with a winning record of 11-2 in the league and 16-6 overall. Larry Bacheller, Chris LeBarre, and Heath Traphagan were named All-League for the Falcons. Bacheller and Traphagan also received all-area honors.

Freshman

The 1986-87 Freshman basketball season turned out great improvement in the team. The Falcon record was 1-8 midway through their season, but with great determination and pride, ended with a 6-4 in the remaining half. It was highlighted by big wins over Centreville, Schoolcraft and White Pigeon.

Their overall season ended with a 7-12 record. Each player gained experience and stamina along the way.

The spirits were escalating, the scoreboard couldn't rack up the points fast enough, the Varsity cheerleaders had the crowd jumping in the stands screaming their favorite cheers. "Go Big Red" echoed throughout the gymnasium. The walls were plastered with signs that pleaded for victory. Eight girls were jumping in unison on the sidelines wearing brilliant red, white and blue uniforms. Another Friday night has expired at CHS.

With their record of 24-12, the Varsity volleyball team experienced its best season ever. During the season the team received a state ranking and finished third in the league. The highpoint of the season was winning the Lawton Tournament. Three players were named All-

League: Stephanie Bishop, Jenni Friesner and Kim Moe. "It was our most successful season ever, in terms of wins and losses. Of our 12 loses, 10 were to state ranked teams and the other two were to Class A schools," commented Coach Sue Kenyon.

JV Volleyball

The 1986-87 Junior Varsity volleyball team started its season at a different pace. Both, coaches Jody Plank and Kathy Derner, and players, learned and experienced the sport at a JV level. Through the wins and losses, each player gained an understanding that is expected at the junior varsity level of competition.

JV Softball

The 1986-87 JV softball team experienced both victory and defeat. The season proved to be exciting for the squad, both on offense and defense, on and off the field. Adjustments were made on this year's team due to players being moved up to Varsity or losing them to injuries. Throughout the season, the team experienced success not only through wins and losses, but also by learning.

The Constantine Varsity softball team had a very successful season. The 1986 team set a school record with the most wins, 8. This year's team, led by seniors LaNae Fager, Missy Reed, Teresa LeVan, Patty Reiff and Teresa Hochstetler broke that with a 19-12 record.

With a league record of 9-5, CHS was ranked third. In addition to these achievements, the girls took first place in the Constantine pitching machine tournament and second place in the Three Rivers Invitational. The team also participated in a weekend trip to the Grand Haven Invitational.

The CHS Tennis team, with first year coach Allan Hilgendorf, had all the right elements for a winning season: dedication, eagerness and a strong desire to play. Yet they lacked one important ingredient, experience. With only one senior and a few other returning players, the team was still in its early stages. Despite their dismal season, members vow to return next year better than ever.

Awards this year were given to Mark Reeves, Most Valuable Player; Kevin Beachey, Coaches Award; and Kevin Stone, Most Improved.

A CHS Athlete

A CHS athlete can come in any size, shape or color. There is no common denominator except a love for a sport and a desire to get the most out of his abilities. He is not only proud of his strengths but understands his weaknesses. He is first of all concerned with the good of his team and knows that individual recognition will come through excellence.

A CHS athlete has the enthusiasm of a spirited cheerleader; the discipline of a colonel; the heart of a comforting mother; and never loses the honesty and character of a curious child.

He appreciates the support of fans, but he is much aware of the example he is setting for some small child watching from aside. He is happy when his relay team crosses the finish line first, but never forgets the teammate who handed him the baton. He is happy catching the winning touchdown pass or scoring the game-winning basket ... he never forgets who threw him the ball. While he never lets up at either end of the race, field, or floor, the other team is not his real opponent; it is the full extent of his own potential that he is always competing against.

A CHS athlete is made, not born. He is constantly striving to reach his fullest potential. He realizes that the challenges and competition of today will better prepare him for tomorrow's world.

Take Time To Remember

As seniors, we are excited and nervous about graduating. We wonder what it will be like when we move out of our home. We worry about entering college, or starting a new job this fall. We are also afraid that we will lose contact with our high school friends after graduation.

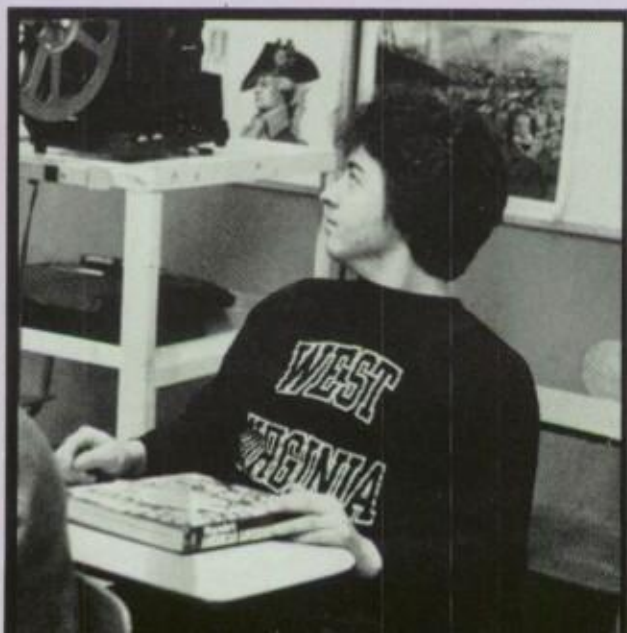

However, there is something we can do to prevent this from happening. We must always remember the fun times we've shared, and start doing that now. Don't forget your first day in kindergarten. Remember how we had to eat all the food on our trays before we could go out for recess? Do you remember going through puberty?

Don't ever forget the first time we cruised Goshen in your parent's car. Do you remember the senior prank? Were you one of the rebels that "bagged it" during the school lunch boycott?

Hopefully, none of us will forget the special memories that happened here at 'ole CHS. Do you still have a piece of the dollar bill that Jim Tuman tore up at his assembly? Do you remember the feeling of unity that we experienced afterward? Were you there when we brought home the tomahawk our junior year?

As you read this section, notice how we traveled back in time. We went to Eastside Elementary to pose for our class picture, and ended up refreshing our memories. So read these pages and take time to remember what happened back in the beginning.

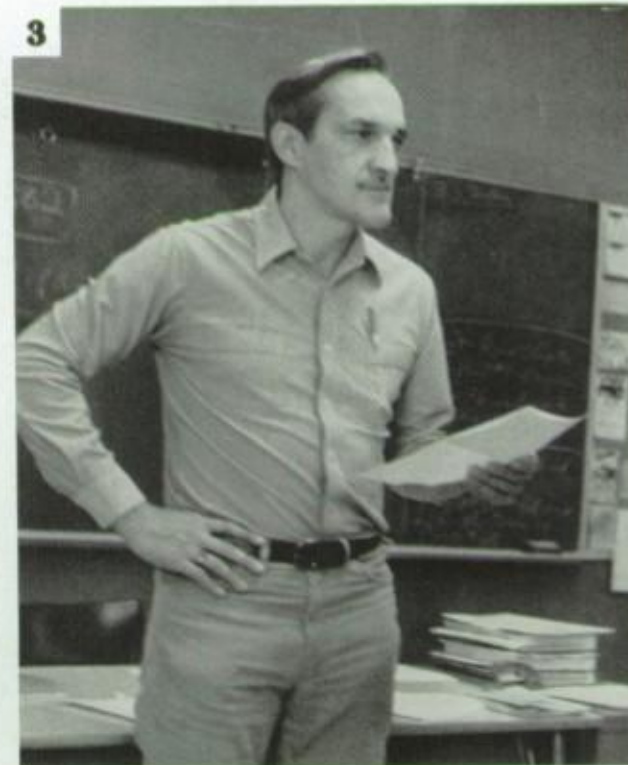

THE FINAL COUNTDOWN

The Class of 1987

In September of 1986, graduation seemed as if it would never come. First there was Homecoming, Brooke and Jim were crowned King and Queen and the Class of '87 won the spirit jug. Then we met as a class in the cafeteria and ordered our caps, gowns, and memory books. It seemed just a bit closer then. As the weather turned colder, the girls decided to play a game of football against the juniors. We'll never forget those last agonizing seconds. As winter approached our spirits began to soar. The basketball team won the district title and Wade and Kirt went to state. Then came our "Senior Prank", and the lunch boycott. Boy were we rebels! Our memory books then arrived, as we filled them with pictures the memories flooded back. As the warmer weather approached, we became excited about spring break. Many of us headed for Florida and other warm parts of the U.S. while some of us just stayed home and partied. Remember the day half of us skipped school to work on our tans at the dunes? Then it finally hit us, we were going to graduate. Invitations, caps, and gowns all came in. We attended the honors banquet and laughed at our wills and prophecies at our Senior Breakfast. We realized our days at CHS were coming to an end.

1. President Stephanie Bishop finalizes plans for graduation. 2. The Senior class officers: Vice-President-Teresa Polasek, President-Stephanie Bishop, Secretary-Jody Callaway, Treasurer-Eilen Black. 3. Our class advisor, Mr. Cole, reminding us we must pass government to graduate.

From Start to Finish

From their first days of kindergarten until graduation, these seniors attended Constantine Public Schools. All the faces pictured on these pages are members of the Class of '87. These people are the students who started kindergarten at Constantine in 1974 and are graduating from here in 1987. These are their actual kindergarten pictures.

The yearbook staff would like to thank Mrs.

Johansen for providing the pictures and the 1987 kindergartners for writing our names just like we did. Pictures were not available for Gary Johnson or Dana Sailor.

Don't Vegetate--Participate

Participation is a vital asset at CHS. Whether it is traveling to Quebec with the French club or making spirit signs with the Pep club, CHS students are participating — not vegetating.

Just being a student is a great activity in itself, but it may not be enough for some. Whether you're a wallflower or a superjock, no matter what the interest or ability, there is a club or activity for you.

While participating in activities, new friendships are made, and old ones renewed. Good times are remembered, and memories cherished.

Remember the Science Olympiad — there are our future chemists! Oh, and the canoe trip, what a blast! What about skiing on Wednesday nights — boy, did it get cold out there. Remember how much fun we had at the Homecoming dance? That was really great, but the prom was even better!

CHS is always alive. It's the clubs and activities that are the life-blood of the school system. Students and teachers blend as one to make activities the best that they can be. NHS honors other students, while Pep Club supports the athletic teams. The language clubs travel to develop new skills.

Everyone at CHS should be proud of their activities and organizations. Names and faces may fade. However, high school memories will never be forgotten, neither will CHS activities.

A Magical Night

Opposite Page: Smile pretty one more time, Kevin Lucas and Michelle Bowerman. 1. Does that tickle, Alicia Spencer? 2. Seniors enjoy their last prom. 3. The underclassmen help to make the prom a success.

For many, the "Magical Night" began early in the afternoon. The girls started at the beauty shop to get their hair done. The guys picked up their tuxes and flowers and also had their cars washed. The girls then came home to spend hours in front of the mirror to put on the finishing touches. By the time the guys got home, they had just enough time to shower and shave.

Girls, remember wondering what his response would be when you first saw each other? Guys, remember the drive to her house, and the anticipation of what the evening would hold? Now it was your parents turn to get into the picture. "Now over there, move closer, put your arms around each other," commanded your parents. When were the pictures going to be over?

Sitting in the candlelit restaurant, gazing into each other's eyes, the food arrived. Wasn't it romantic? As you arrived at the community center, the tension grew. As you walked through the arches during the Grand March, all eyes were upon you. Now that your parents left, the rest of the evening was yours. When the theme song, "Never Say Goodbye" started playing, every couple danced. The garter ceremony will never be forgotten! As the clock approached midnight, the evening came to a close and couples went their separate ways. The "Magical Night" was over, but the memories will last forever.

And 22 days after prom . . . GRADUATION DAY ARRIVES

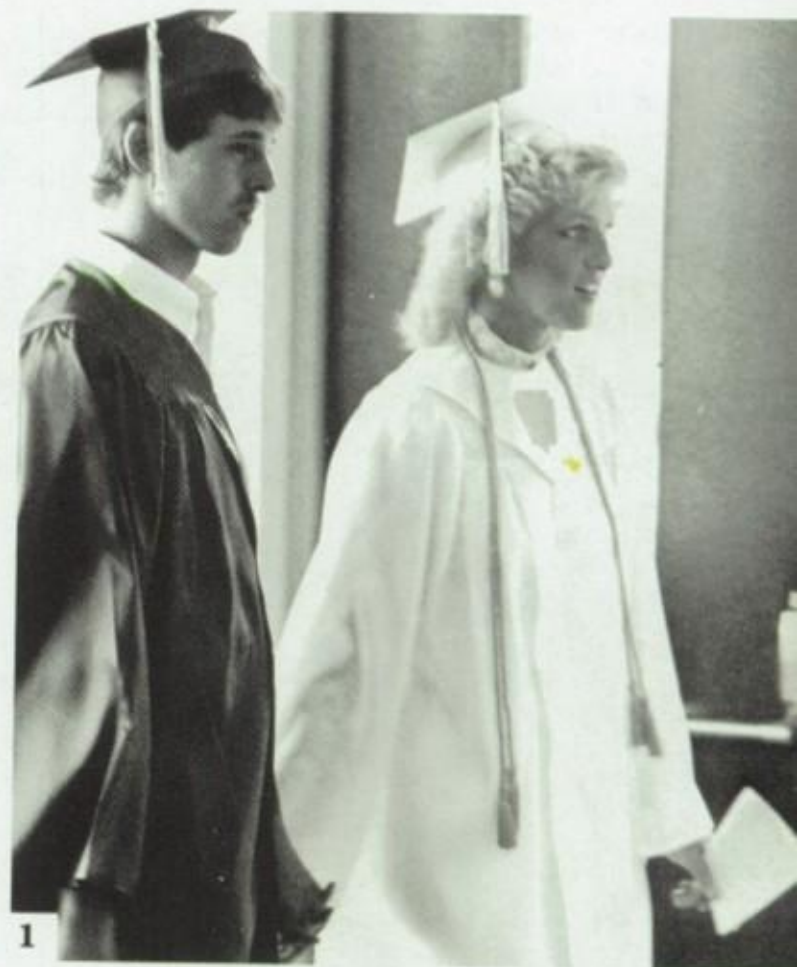

We've waited for this day since we were freshman. It's hard to believe we made it through four long years of high school at CHS, but we did.

Girls, can you remember rushing around trying to find bobby pins? It's a good thing Eilen Black brought enough hairspray for everyone. Guys, do you remember how your caps fell off every time you turned your head? Boy, were we lucky that it wasn't a windy day.

We'll never forget all of Mr. Cole's instructions — left foot first, ten feet apart. We thought he'd never stop nagging at us. After we were seated, things went a little easier. Do you remember what the minister talked about? Did you listen to the speeches that Laura Seager and Kris Beachey presented? Do you remember Teresa LeVan crying after she sang, "The Way We Were"? All of these people helped make our graduation day special. Let's not forget what happened after the benediction. Some "rebels" in our Senior Class threw firecrackers, and the noise lasted for about five minutes. Everyone who attended graduation will remember that "we left with a bang!"

1. Mike Tulley says to Laura Seager, "Are you sure you want to go through with this?" 2. The class of 1987 prepares to leave.

Rain, Rain Go Away

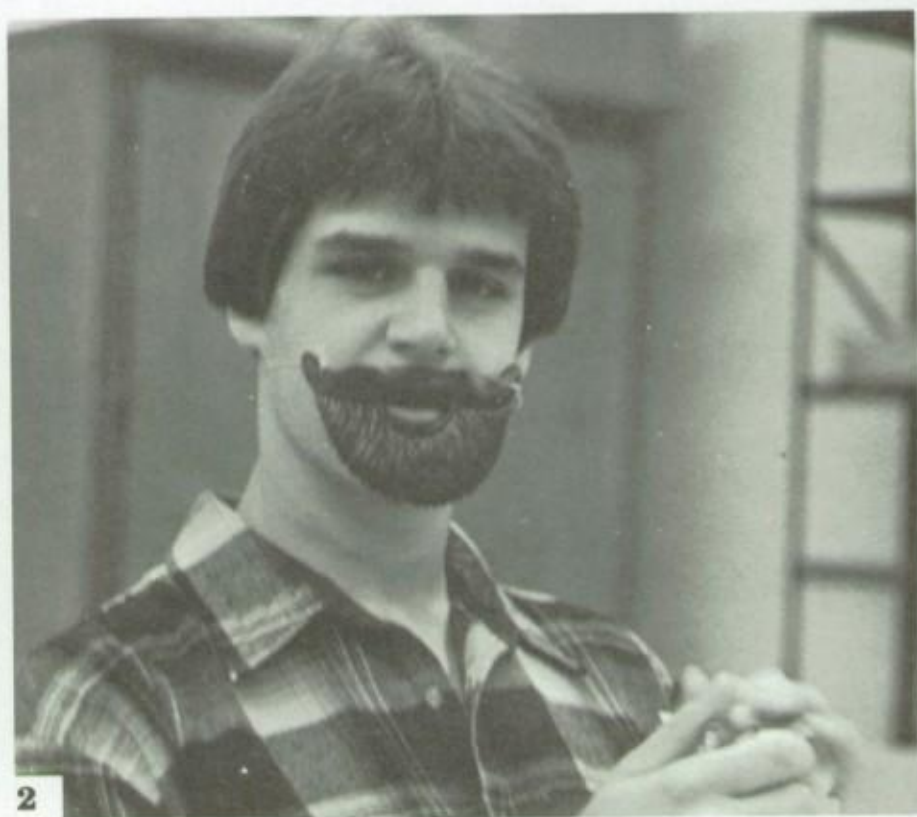

As CHS began to prepare for the 1986 Homecoming festivities, everything seemed to be falling into place. The dress-up days, which included Horror, Turn About and Mercenary-Armed Forces were set. Competition for the "spirit jug" began to heat up between the classes. It seemed nothing could go wrong. Then someone neglected to mention that to Mother Nature, and she showed us the worst four-letter word we could see or hear: RAIN.

As the game day began, doubtful eyes looked skyward, but they looked for rain that never came. As the day progressed, there roared the most remarkable sound which could be heard for miles. It was called CHS Spirit.

The activities that afternoon made the atmosphere even hotter. The annual tug-of-war had a new twist-mud. The tricycle race proved to be an upset for some. For others, the chance to win the greased watermelon pass slipped through their hands. After the totals were tallied, the Seniors walked away with the "Spirit Jug."

That night the team thundered out onto the field with a gleam in their eyes. Throughout the evening that gleam turned into a full-scale glow. When the shine subsided, the Falcons had defeated the Magi in a shut-out, 20-0.

1. Melinda Fred expresses the joys of bicycle riding. 2. Heath Traphagan gets into the spirit. 3. Kevin Lucas and Mike Fager after freshening up a bit in the ladies room. 4. The mad dash for the shoes begins during Homecoming Festivities. 5. Bob Sodeman and Lorna Seabolt really get into the Dress-Up Days and scare a few people. 6. Haley Johnson gives her fellow sophomores a helping hand with the bus push. 7. Toby Studabaker contemplates that watermelons aren't really that light. 8. Gina Piraccini clowning around again. 9. Judy Becker realizes the horror of "Horror Day" with a torn shirt.

Band

The Constantine High Flying Falcon Band underwent many changes in 1986. With Gary Oberlin as the new director, the band tried a new high-step marching style. Their new uniforms added much color to their performances. The highlight of the season was the first home football game in which they performed to a patriotic theme. The show was concluded with a dynamic fireworks display.

1. Debbie Warren playing to the tune "We Got the Beat." 2. A salute to America. 3. The seniors. 4. The flag corps. 5. The Constantine High Flying Marching Band.

Band

The CHS concert band had a productive season. They performed many concerts and attended a District Festival.

1. Featuring the clarinet section ...
2. Tiffany Clark toots her flute. 3. Can't you hit it any harder than that, Angie? 4. The CHS concert band.

Pep Band Rocks

The 1987 pep band rocked to the beat. The pep band is an extracurricular activity which consists of 20 members in grades 7-12. The band practices once a week on Monday evenings to prepare for their performances. Each home basketball game, the group livens up the crowd with its many pop tunes.

Gary Oberlin, new band director at CHS, led the group this year. Oberlin has previously taught band for 16 years. He states, "I love it here; the school is excellent. I want to do my best for the band program."

Snowfestival '87

Snowfestival in 1987 encountered a change. Without the activities in the afternoon, students had to find different ways of creating spirit. During the week students participated in the designated dress-up days: college logo, twin, Hawaiian, dress-up, and red, white, and columbia blue. The week was concluded with a victory over the Mendon Hornets.

NHS

Although the 1986-87 National Honor Society was small, they helped recognize other potential honor students. This year the members decided to hold induction earlier so that the new members could participate in more activities. The qualifications for NHS are scholarship, leadership, citizenship, service and character, which all of these members represent.

Student Senate

Student Senate involves two elected students from each class. The 1986-87 Student Senate, with the help of advisor Randy Shank, attempted to tackle many problems that the group has overlooked in the past. These included drafting a new school constitution and attempting to change some of the school's policies.

Español

The Spanish Club did not get the chance to travel to a Spanish-speaking country, but they experienced the Spanish culture by involving themselves in many activities. Some of the activities included visiting restaurants and listening to stories told by people who have visited various Hispanic countries.

Front Row: A. Richards, W. Roberts, C. Whetzell, A. Kauffman, C. Gresso. Row Two: Advisor Carol Deller, K. Wyman, J. Tront, M. Dunithan, D. Mathews, D. Carlisi, M. Roberts, H. Vernon, E. Black, T. Reiff, K. Koppert. Row Three: B. Henderson, M. Kemp, S. Sattler, M. Mowat, J. Carr.

Français

The French Club not only set their sights on perfecting their understanding of the French language, but also on traveling to Quebec, Canada. To finance their trip the club held many fundraisers. Instead of taking time out of school, this year the club will take their annual trip at the end of the school year. Bon Courage!

The Best Ever . . .

The '87 Yearbook, with "Check Us Out" as its theme, was a departure from previous Ledgers. Editor Laura Seager, Senior Editor Tina Melchi and Photographer Gina Piraccini spent a week in August at TPC Yearbook Camp, where they learned how to copyfit text, develop pictures and construct layouts. The girls also recieved two awards at camp, one of these was an "Outstanding Staff Award". The all-girl staff has high hopes that this will be the best CHS Ledger ever.

Pep Club and Explorers Club Involve Many

The CHS "peppies" built school spirit with its enthusiasm and support at all sports events from ballgames to wrestling matches. Signs and pep badges were made and assemblies were held before athletic events to boost the spirit of the students as well as the athletes.

Checking out the action is just what the CHS Explorers club did as they participated in an annual canoe trip and ski trip. The two advisors who kept the club busy and adventurous were Mr. Steve Barrus and Mr. Doug Hunter.

Science Club

The club's main project this year is the Science Olympiad. They also took a trip to a science museum. Advisor Randy Shank stated, "This club is an opportunity for students to enjoy science outside of the classroom atmosphere." Jody Callaway, a member of the club, stated, "Science club gives you an opportunity to be with people who share the same interests."

Ski Club

Ski club members hit the slopes at Swiss Valley Ski Lodge. Beginners usually start with the "Bunny Hill" and eventually work up to the other hills. Member Gina Piraccini states, "I really love skiing. The best thing about it is sharing the fun with friends."

Front Row: T. Totten, J. Neal, G. Piraccini, N. Carrol, T. Myers. Row Two: D. Kreischer, J. Giltner, T. Keckler, Mr. Hunter.

for Support CHS Grateful

"Hello! My name is Missy Reed, and this is my friend, Jenny Law. We are from the Constantine Yearbook Staff, and would like to know if you are interested in purchasing an ad for our '87 Ledger. The prices range from ..." This is an example of what you would hear if you were a local businessman.

The Publications class had high expectations for this yearbook. We wanted to add a Student Life section, a full-color cover and more color pages. Since these improvements would cost money, the staff had to work hard selling ads.

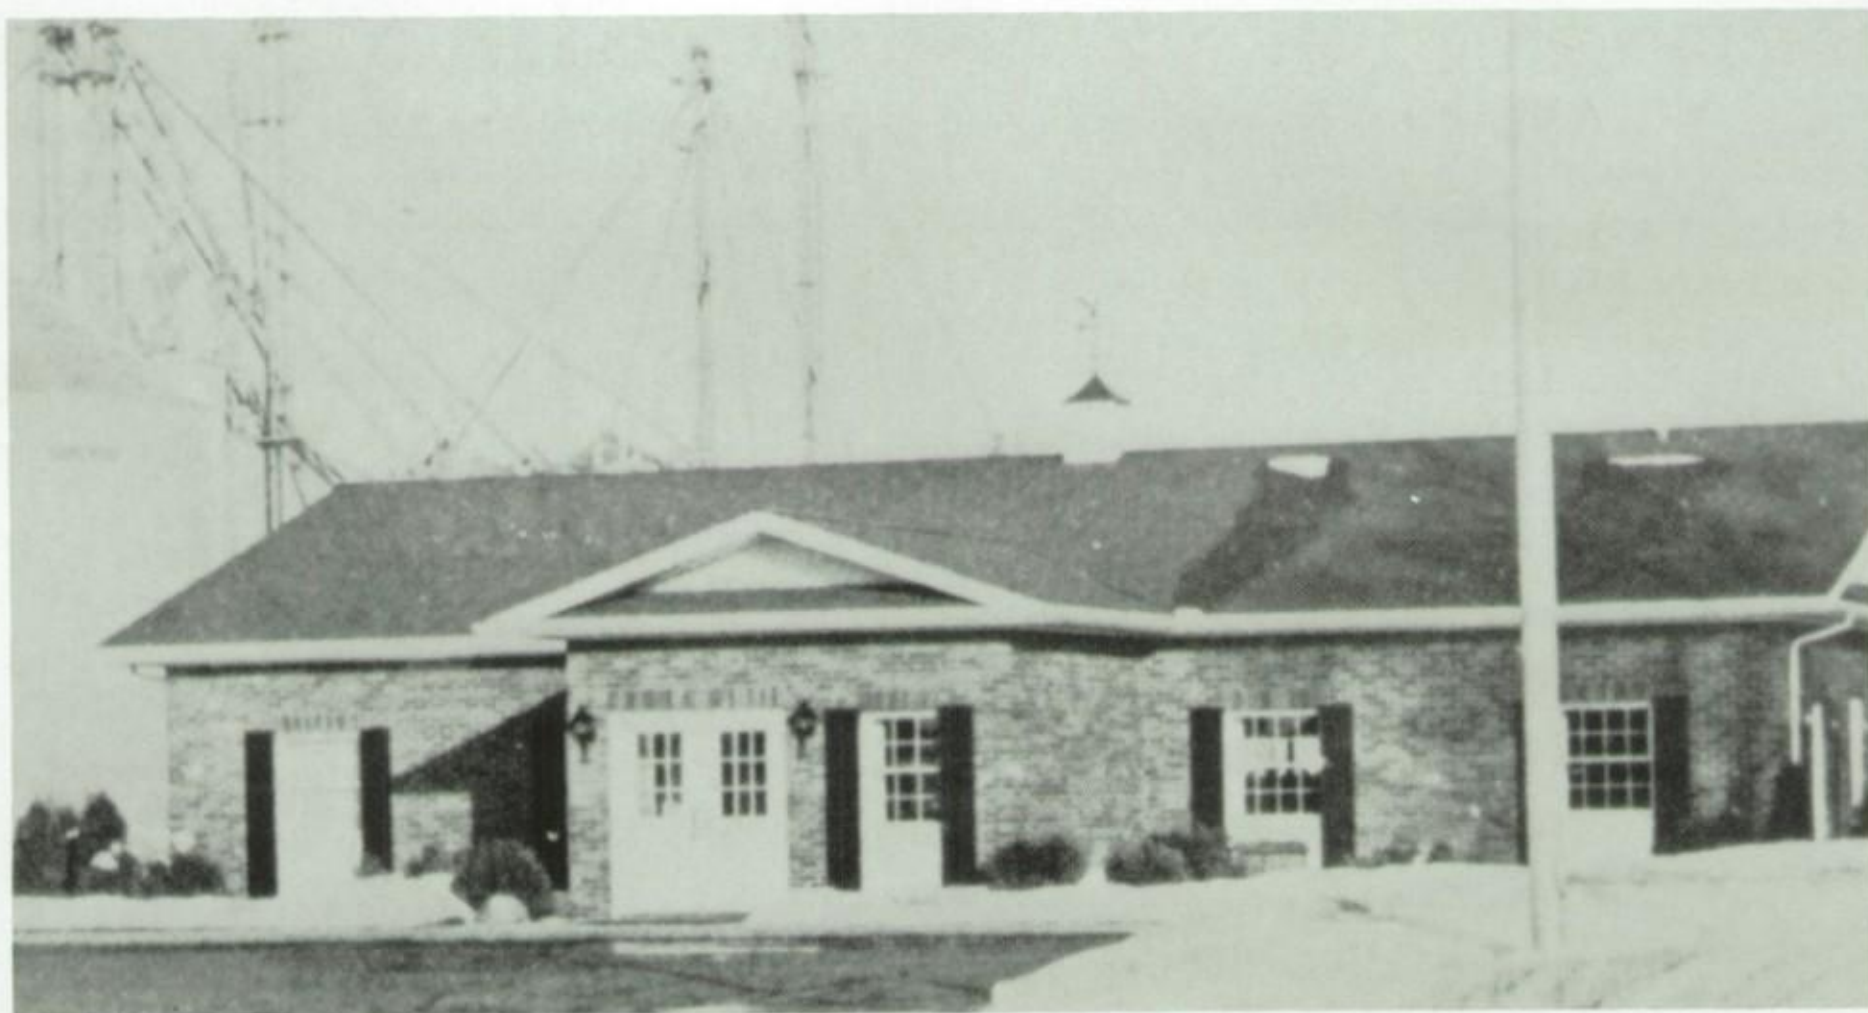

This year's staff not only sold advertisements during the summer, but they also took a day off school to sell. That day, the yearbook staff split up in groups of two and visited businesses in the area. To add some incentive, the staff decided to reward a cash prize to the team that had the highest sales of the day.

Reed and Law made a goal for themselves at the beginning of the day. They wanted to sell $1000 worth of advertisements. At 3 p.m. that same day, they reached their goal. Both girls deserve a 'pat on the back' for their fine efforts.

If it were not for the generous contributions of our local businesses and senior patrons, we wouldn't have a yearbook. So be sure to check out the advertisement section of the book, and remember to patronize the businesses that helped support the Ledger.

HARTER

Sturgis, Michigan

Holly Ann Winnicki;
 With much pride and joy, we watch you graduate today!
 We know there is a sadness in your heart today, because one of your dreams can never come true. That dream, your brother Michael is not here, as he always promised he would be.
 Just remember, he lives in "Heaven next to God," and Angels do see, they really do!
 Today on your Graduation Day,
 Look up into the sky, in that cloud above you, there is a smile you can see.
 It's Michael John-Paul, looking down upon you! His body is gone, his voice you can't hear but, The warmth that you feel upon your face, is his love. The strength that you feel is his embrace, that says "THANKS HOLLY, MY LITTLE SISTER"
 You're great, and I'm so proud to have been able, to share part of my life with you.
 I always had a premonition that you'd fulfill my dreams.
 That you'd accomplish, many wonderful things.
 Dear Daughter, Sister and Aunt, keep on challenging fate, reach high, we know you can accomplish whatever you try.
 We're so proud of you.
 Love,
 Dad and Mom, Brothers, Sister & Brother-in-law, Nieces and Nephews and Grandma.

1. Melissa Bucholtz listens to Erich Bernhardt and Carla Strawser gossip. 2. Jenny Issac and Jason Stroup display a small amount of affection in the hall. 3. Staci Chidister smiles pretty for the camera. 4. This is CHS vandalism at its best. 5. Mohammed Khan primps in the boy's bathroom. 6. James Powell drills away. 7. Mrs. Lehman's class says, "Learning is fun!"

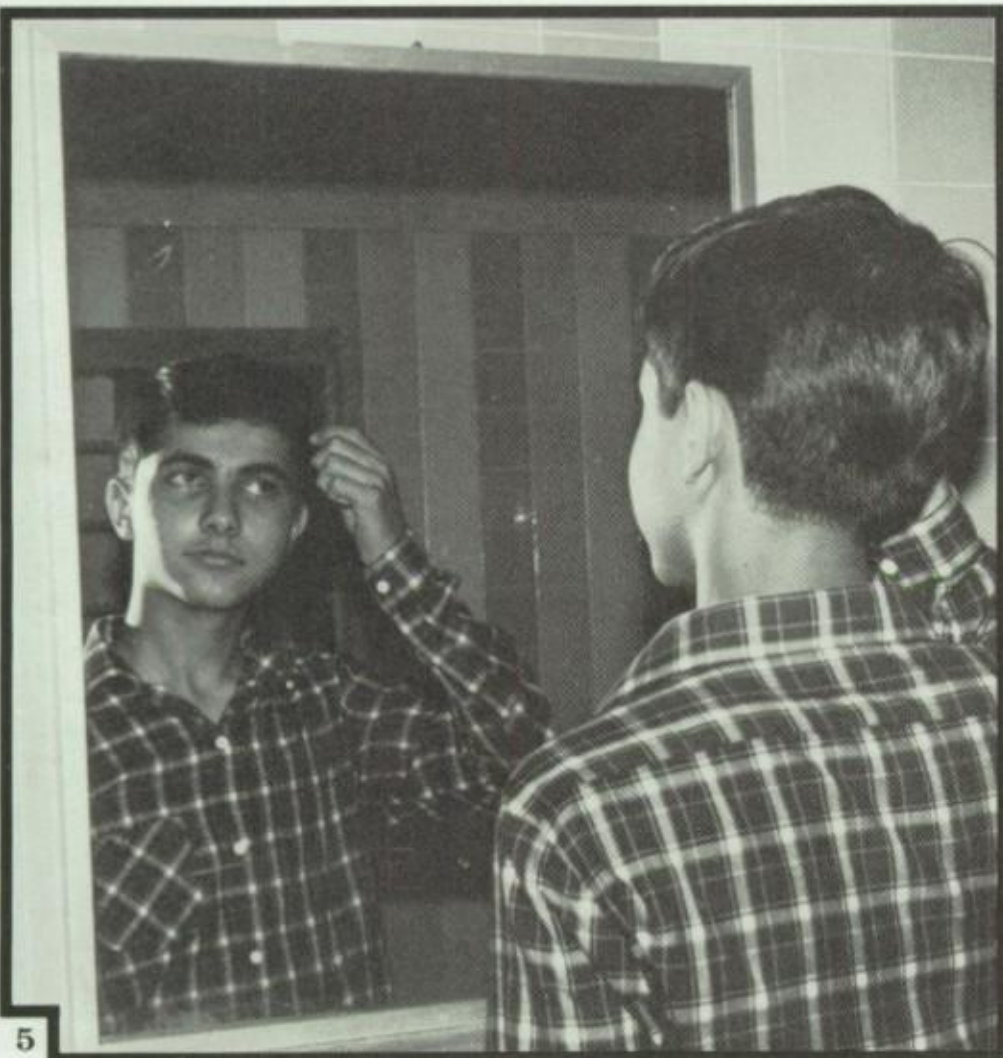

Check Us Out!

In May Of 1987 . . .

It didn't seem like you would make it, but you did. You reached the final pages of your yearbook as well as the end of another year at CHS. There is nothing left to check out.

Wait! There has to be something you've missed. Did you read every article and look at every picture? Have you remembered all the fun times you spent with your friends? Can you remember all the classes you hated? You must have forgotten something.

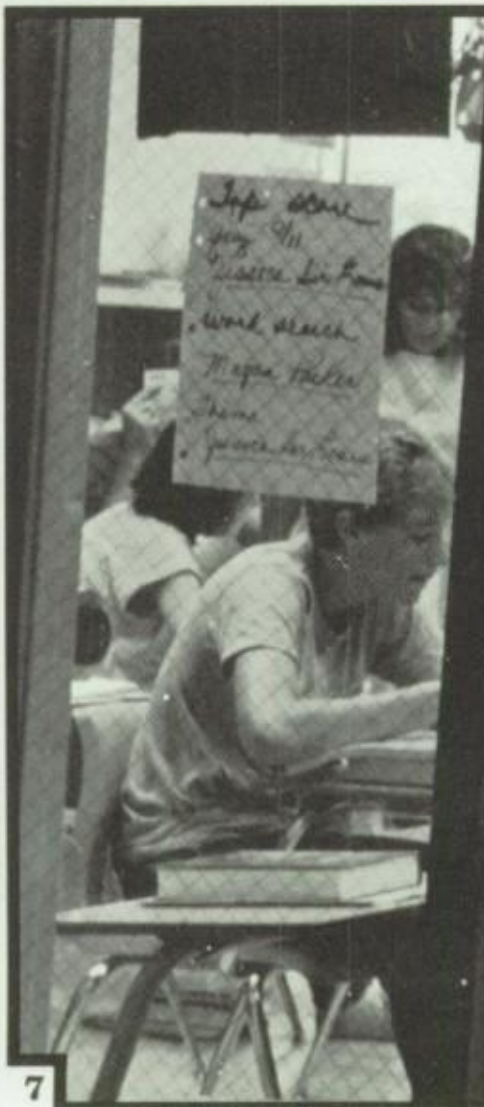

Go back to the beginning and check out each section one more time. If you're sure you've finished, put this yearbook away in a safe place. I'm sure you'll want to bring back the memories someday.

Scott!

Well, now that we are lovely FRESHMEN again, we'll have to work hard to make it to the top! Isn't college great? I never imagined the work, though! (Not that we actually do it ALL 😊) You are a riot to be around, I'll never forget our library days - even the loud, bitchy ones 😊. I can't wait to tell Mrs. Connelly you haven't done ALL of your homeworks! That is UNBELIEVABLE!

If you ever want to stop by, I'm sure you can find my "house" and - if you want to party, I'm sure something can be arranged! Keep in touch - OKAY!?

Love Ya!

Jimmy
